ROTE SPOKES

On Monday August 28, the Rotarians had brought home to them the importance of printing in their daily lives. Under the vocational committee Max Hamilton entertained the club members with an interesting and provocative talk on his chosen profession. Out of his boyhood desires to become a writer and journalist we learned how through many faucets these aspirations finally lead him into ownership of the Raymond Recorder.

Several hundred years ago Gutenberg invented movable type which made printing possible. Have you ever stopped to think what your life would be today if this had not happened? Would you be driving a car or moving through the air at several hundred miles an hour if printing had not been invented? Would you be enjoying all the benefits of medical science today and the thousand and one niceties that we now take for granted? And the atom bomb, would we be fretting about that if we had no printing? Maybe we had better destroy all the printing presses. Seriously though, when one stops to think about it, what we are and our civilization as it stands today are such because of the invention of printing.

From here Max swung to the problems encountered in the running of a printing shop and the publishing of a small town weekly. He indicated that in his opinion a weekly newspaper should point up the news of people and events in the town and district it serves, leaving the world news to the large dailies, two of which serve our district. Here, Max and Roxie have run into their greatest trouble, lack of news. Not that there is an absence of life in our town, but for some reason people are reluctant to tell about it. The speaker pointed out the impossibility of himself being able to cover all events and appealed to the townspeople to pass along any interesting news items which they might have. In other words, come on and get your name in the paper.

The members of the Rotary Club enjoyed this talk from our local editor and I am sure, are fully behind him in his efforts to make the Raymond Recorder a paper we can all be proud of. Thanks Max.

Manitoba Flood Disaster

This is absolutely the last word in this column concerning the Manitoba Flood disaster. As far as this writer is concerned this has become cold news, but we would like to pass along the final figures on how Rotary met this calamity.

The Winnipeg Rotary Club has received generous help in money and goods from Rotary Clubs all over Canada, United States and from across the seas to help alleviate the distress caused by floods to Rotarians and other citizens of Winnipeg and the Red River Valley. The Winnipeg Rotary Club is most grateful for your help. As Governor of District 171, in which Winnipeg is our senior club, may I join my thanks with theirs for your prompt and magnificent contribution. The Directorate of the Winnipeg Rotary Club want you to know the full extent of assistance received and handled through their office. To Aug. 11th it is as follows:

Fourth Ward Mothers and Daughters

A large number of flower-bedecked mother and daughters of the Fourth Ward gathered together in the Stake House last Thursday night to enjoy an evening of music, skits, readings games and of course, lunch.

A few songs were sung by the audience, under the direction of Mrs. Velma Redd, to get the evening off to a good start, followed by a grand march so that Judges Zarella Taylor and Eleanor Hudson could view and choose the most beautiful and the most original corsage. This was a difficult job as there were so many lovely ones from which to choose, however they finally decided on Mrs. Emily Rolfsen's as being the most beautiful and Beverly Perks' as being the most original. Mrs. Ezra Christensen, having the most daughters there with corsages, also received a gift.

Marolyn Taylor and Shirley Allen continued the program with a delightful two-piano duet; Geraldine Court gave a beautiful rendition of "Roses of Picardy"; Carolyn and Marolyn Taylor, in appropriate costume, presented a very humorous skit after which Grace Selman sang "Dear Heart and Gentle People". My Mama Spanks Me, a humorous reading by Roxie Hamilton was next, followed by a trio, Mary, Margaret and Kay Stone who sang "Sweet and Low". Kathryn Keeler played a beautiful piano selection, Little Lynn Galbraith gave a reading and the Rasmussen twins presented a musical number. Marolyn and Shirley concluded the program with another piano duet.

Ann Turner and Lettie Litchfield took over from here and divided the crowd into four groups to play a few games before the delicious plate lunch was served.

Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Heninger and two daughters from Vancouver have been guests at the Wilford Heninger home. They are en route to Idaho Falls where they will make their home.

Will Selman Laid to Rest

Funeral services for the late Charles William (Will) Selman, who passed away last Wednesday afternoon at his home here, were held Saturday afternoon in the Stake House. Bishop J. Golden Snow conducted the services.

Music was supplied by the Fourth Ward Choir directed by J. Gerald Gibb and accompanied by Rol Stone at the organ. The choir sang two hymns, "I Know That My Redeemer Lives" and "Nearer My God to Thee" and a quartet, Ira McBride, Frank Taylor, Paul Redd and Delbert Oler sang "Crossing the Bar". Rol Stone played an organ solo "O My Father". Melvin T. King, T. Geo. Wood and Bishop Snow gave brief remarks with Bishop Snow thanking friends and neighbors and all who had helped the Selman family during their bereavement.

Opening prayer was given by T. T. Mendenhall and the benediction by C. R. Wing. T. W. Meldrum offered the graveside prayer.

Pallbearers were nephews of Mr. Selman, Brownie Rolfsen, Dean Rolfsen, Wilson Rolfsen, Lynn Selman, Leonard Rolfsen and Dee Rolfsen.

Interment was in the family plot in Temple Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Selman was born in Payson, Utah, in 1881 and came to Raymond when about twenty years old. He worked at many jobs, farming, ranching (being foreman of the Buck and Butte Ranches for Ray Knight) and railroading (he was working on the first freight train that went into San Francisco after the great earthquake). His farming ventures, with Hymum Kimball as partner, centered around the sugar beet industry. When 20 acres was considered a big patch he and his partner were growing 90 or thereabouts.

His prowess as a baseball catcher won him considerable fame and at one time he played on a semi-professional team in Lethbridge.

In 1912 he was called on a mission in Australia where he met his future wife. They returned to Utah in 1915 and were married in the Salt Lake Temple and came to Raymond to make their home and have resided here since.

Mr. Selman is survived by his wife, two sons, Francom of Calgary and Barker, two sisters, two brothers and four grandchildren.

Road to be Gravelled

Another step toward a hard-surfaced road from Craddock to Waterton will be completed this fall according to a statement made recently by Mr. Halmfast, M.L.A. The local Road Committee has been pressing for definite action on the roads leading out of Raymond and their efforts have been fruitful. The Welling road will be brought up to standard grade and gravelled this fall and in the future, after the Craddock road has been brought to standard grade and gravelled, there is hope for hard-surfacing. The Town of Raymond and surrounding district are fortunate indeed in having such a public-spirited group of men as the Road Committee.

Variety Program

A very interesting and varied program was presented Tuesday evening by the First Ward Mutual with Gil Evans as the jovial Master of Ceremonies.

Little barefoot Cynthia Hague in tattered shirt and trousers and fish-pole over her shoulder told us, among other things, that there must be a 'lot of fish in that stream 'cause she hadn't taken any out. The Teddy Bear's Picnic was then ably played by Rojana Bingham and Beth Walker as a piano duet. L.B. Tanner, accompanied by Vinega Hamilton, both of Magrath, sang two selections beautifully followed by Mr. Bird who flew from one tune to another on the piano so quickly and smoothly one hardly realized he had gone on to the next. The audience thoroughly enjoyed his piano styling and brought him back for more. Cynthia Hague then returned to tell us about Dusty Dan, the Hobo Man. Nyal Fletcher, also of Magrath, entertained with three novelty numbers. Listen to the Mocking Bird on his talking violin, an imitation of a trombone and the story of the Chinese Laundry. Mr. Livinski's impression of a wedding was told to an appreciative audience by Mr. Willis Fawns of Stirling, who, with his costume and dialect, might have passed for Mr. Lavinski himself. When Day is Done was beautifully rendered by Gen Hawkins, Melba and Bill Mehew, accompanied by Emma Dahl at the piano. Mr. Bird concluded the evening by playing a number of hymns.

Ambition is one thing that Heber Coles does not lack. Even though he is in his 93rd year he has painted the Randall home — and he did a good job of it too, even to the red trimming.

Reid Erickson left today and Doris and the baby will leave tomorrow by plane for Edmonton where they will live for the next year so that Reid can attend University. Doris will join the nursing staff of a hospital there.

Deaths

Corrine, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker was killed instantly when hit by her father's truck. It is believed that after her father let her out of the truck she started for the house and when the truck began to move she ran in front of it.

Funeral services will be held in the Stake House on Friday, Sept. 1, with Bishop Floyd Wilde officiating.

Capitol Theatre News

Plan now to see one of the screen's most entertaining features "The Doctor and the Girl" playing this Friday and Saturday at the Capitol.

A preview has been arranged at the Capitol for the Sunday night before Labor Day. The smash hit feature "On the Town" with Gene Kelly, Betty Garrett and Ann Miller will be shown.

The issue of Newsweek two weeks ago carried a three page spread relative to the new Paramount picture that opens in Raymond on Friday of next week. This feature will rank as one of the greatest of 1950. It stars Gloria Swanson and William Holden and is entitled "Sunset Boulevard". Raymond will be the first to play this attraction so arrange to see it next week.

Mothers are wonderful people who can get up in the morning before they smell the bacon frying.

Successful Swim-Cade

Monday evening at the Swimming Pool Gordon Cooper and Shirley Allen directed Raymond's second annual Swim-cade under the supervision of George Swedish. The water festival got under way with the swimmers holding a red and blue formation in the form of a flag while the spectators sang the National Anthem.

Vede Gilchrist, genial Master of Ceremonies, gave the Address of Welcome and introduced the divers, Bert Fairbanks, Maxine Dahl, Larry Dahl and Gordon Cooper and the clowns, Morris and Monte Dahl. The dives demonstrated were the Plain Header, Swan, Pike, Front on, Back one and the Front one-and-a-half. Miss Dahl, the only girl to perform in the diving exhibit displayed very near perfect form, showing the appreciative crowd what practice can do.

Following the diving, Mrs. Frank Hall, President of the local Red Cross, presented Evelyn Sabey and Gregory Dahl with their junior swimming crests, Donald Attwood, Bill Hervey and Ross Harker with intermediate swimming crests and pins and Shirley Allen with a senior swimming badge and pin. These were earned earlier in the season when R. C. Bishop, instructor from Calgary, came to Raymond to give the swimming classes tests.

Lawrence Kotkas then gave an exhibition of water safety, including disrobing in water and personal safety skills. Gordon Cooper then assisted him in demonstrating several holds, breaks and carries used in life saving.

The next event was the swimming race with both clowns and girls participating. Of course the clowns won, being helped along by a pair of fins and a rope tied around their middle being pulled by a half a dozen able bodied accomplices.

The grand finale of the evening included unison swimming, diving and formations. Among the formations was one in the shape of a star centered around a float of flowers. The girls taking part in the finale were Shirley Allen, Hazel Fairbanks, Juanita Oler, Arlene Ralph, Arlene Taylor, Charlene Graham, Dorothy Nelson, Margaret Stone, Janet Turner, Ginger Evans, Maxine Dahl and Pat Strong.

Sincere thanks are offered to all those who participated and the hope expressed for many more successful Swim-cades.

Pre-Nuptial Shower

Charming Vicky Kwalek, bride-elect, was feted at a calling shower sponsored by the hospital nursing staff in the beautifully decorated Nurses Residence on Thursday evening. Many friends called to wish her happiness and present her with gifts. A delicious lunch was served.

She will be married at the Church of the Sacred Heart on September ninth to Roger Desmet.

Card of Thanks

We would like to have our friends and neighbors know how much we appreciate their expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement and to thank them all for the use of cars, the lovely flowers and the help that has been rendered.

Lions Make Good Neighbor Policy Work

By Humberto Valenzuela G.

This Address by Lion Valenzuela, retiring District Governor of District 11, composed of Peru, Chile and Bolivia, was made in response to addresses of welcome by the Honorable Aldat Stevenson, Governor of Illinois, and the Honorable Martin H. Kennelly, Mayor of Chicago, at the opening session of the 33rd Convention of Lions International, July 16 to 20, 1950.

About a month ago I had the pleasure of receiving one of his usual friendly letters from our Founder and Secretary-General, Mr. Melvin Jones, in which he invited me, at the suggestion of the International President, my dear friend, Walter Fisher, to make a speech at the opening of this great Convention on behalf of all the Delegations present. Greatly honored as I felt and still feel by the undeserved distinction, only my sense of discipline as a loyal Lion and officer of Lions International, induced me to accept it. This is one of the most difficult moments of my life, but I count on your generosity to pardon my poor English, and please believe me that only my fervent love of Lionism could justify my boldness in addressing you in a language which I am only beginning to learn.

We Latin-Americans have travelled far, flying over seas, mountains and deserts to be able to meet with you here in this great country, bringing in our hearts the hope of soaking ourselves in her glorious traditions and of drinking at the inexhaustible spring which overflows all her activities which is also the principle of our organization: Liberty.

We have come to the cradle of true democracy. Let us not confuse this with certain other strange systems of government and social schemes which are democratic in nothing but name. We Andean Lions have come from Bolivia, Chile and Peru, three democratic nations which are proud of cultivating the same virtues that have made the North American people great and universally respected.

The eloquent greeting with which the Honorable Governor of the State of Illinois has welcomed us, serves as a spur to our energies, for in his sincerity we can see the Good Neighbor Policy, not as an empty phrase, but as a real force which will unite all nations — particularly those from all parts of this continent who are proud to call ourselves Americans — a real force, I repeat, which coming from the bottoms of our hearts, has already shown its power in actual results, and which is a sure presage of better days for all humanity.

Unworthily honored as I have been by being chosen to represent all the Delegations which have come together for this great Convention, in their name I wish to express our deepest gratitude for the friendly reception you have given us. Honorable Governor of Illinois, authorities and representatives of Chicago City, Lady Lions and Lions of the United States: we thank you most sincerely for your exquisite courtesy, and for all that you are doing to make our stay in this great metropolis pleasant. We hope that you will soon give us the opportunity of repaying this debt of

Our Trip

We had no sooner left him than a car coming from the south passed and I gave it the sign. For a while it looked as though it did no good but then the brake lights started blinking and we lost a couple of ounces by running around the curve to get in a big grey car with a couple of ladies from California. To make the score perfect they also drove a Plymouth.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hillis, the driver, and her companion told us that they would not guarantee what time we would arrive in Calgary as the fuel pump or something was acting up but that we were welcome to ride. We were on holiday and it was a long time before six o'clock so we were well satisfied.

Mrs. Hillis and friend, we were both going to remember to ask her name but we both forgot, had flown from Los Angeles to Detroit to pick up the car and were just taking the long way home. It was a very interesting trip with the conversation covering such diverse subjects as the fact that land costs approximately $1,000 per acre in California—if you can find it; the land there is farmed so close to the road that when tipplers throw the bottles out of their car windows they fly into the fields where they break and cause great damage to the rubber tires on the farming equipment; there is a strange blight affecting the orange groves down in their country and so far no remedy has been found, the cause is not known and the name "swift decline" has been given the disease. Mrs. Hillis told us of the sporting activities of the famous Jackie Robinson; he attended the same college as her son so she has seen him performing many times. He plays basketball, Baseball (with a capital B), football and was a track star. Mrs. Hillis stressed the fact that he had graduated from college legitimately and that he was not given his diploma just because he was an excellent athlete.

The subject of the world situation also came under discussion and the Americans had us at almost a loss because, I hate to admit, we are not up on the subject like we should be. Mrs. Hillis is a school teacher so we don't feel too badly because no-one is supposed to know as much as a school teacher.

When we got to the outskirts of Calgary our benefactors started looking for an auto camp and when they saw a vacancy sign they wished us luck on the remainder of our trip and we bid them a fond farewell. They were nice people.

This put us inside the Manchester loop and the time was a quarter to two. The three free rides and a lift by the Calgary Transit System put us in Calgary before the bus got in. Besides saving ourselves some money we had met four very nice people and had a lot of fun.

We now have a bouquet for Lee Brewerton. We had planned on going to the Capitol Theatre on Monday night but we couldn't—we had already seen the picture here at Brewerton's Capitol. "My Friend Irma Goes West". We had always thought that the smaller towns got the pictures later than the cities but 'tis not so. "Hasty Heart" was playing in Lethbridge and "Irma Goes West" was just in the "coming" rack. Aren't you glad you live here?

Monday afternoon was spent in visiting Roxie's sister, her old office, our supply house, my former landlady and the shop where I used to work.

On Monday evening the only show we thought interesting was "The Third Man" so that is where Roxie's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walton and the "boss" and I went. Not a bad show and it's no wonder they made a record of the theme music.

After spending the night at Walton's we got off to an early start—about eleven o'clock, down town to check on some printing we are going to do for the Detroit Auto Body Works—four thousand cheques and ten thousand invoice forms.

To stave off starvation we stopped at our favorite hang-out, Hansen's Drug Store for a quick hamburger and milkshake and in the midst of a small shower took off by bus for 16th Ave. and 10th St. N.W. to continue on to Banff the Beautiful.

The fourth free ride we had was with a man who was just going a short way but it was toward Banff so we were happy to accept. He had his window down and the wind made such a racket that conversation was almost impossible but it was an appreciated ride.

Standing out on the highway with the wind blowing our hair and no cars in sight almost gave my dear wife the idea we should have taken the bus but it was not too long before a big Chevrolet stopped and the man offered us a ride to Cochrane. He was a slightly taciturn old fellow who must have liked lots of room because he put us both in the back seat. After travelling a while he thawed out and told us of a recent trip up north. He didn't drive very fast and had his radio turned too loud but he helped us a few miles on our trip and thanks go to him.

After walking through the town of Cochrane, made important by the fact that mixed drinking is allowed and so doing a big business with Calgarians, we had our longest wait. To keep up both Roxie's and my own spirits I made the bold statement that we would be in Banff by four o'clock and if a very personable young man from Calgary by the name of Don Davis had not stopped for us when he did it would have been an idle statement indeed. As it was we had a very enjoyable trip and arrived in front of the King Edward Hotel at ten after four.

Our first concern was lodging so we called at the desk of the King Edward and were told the old story, "Sorry". I thought that because of the Tours Brewster's Mount Royal would be full-up so we next called at the new Cascade. The desk clerk was very sorry but could do nothing for us and even offered the newsworthy little item that he did not think there was a hotel room to be had. This decided me to head for the Information Bureau but the "dear sweet girl" suggested that we give the Mount Royal a try so, even if I did think it to be a waste of time, we went back and to my surprise the clerk made us very happy and gave us a very nice room with a bath. For the price they asked it should be nice but we figured by saving busfare we could splurge a little on accommodation.

Without a car the easiest thing to do in any town is go to a show and Banff is no exception so after we were settled in our room and had a short sight-seeing tour we went to see Ann Blyth in "Our Very Own" and if you ever get a chance we recommend that you see this show—it is superb!

While on our walk Tuesday night we had made arrangements to go on the Rocky Mountain Tour to Lake Minnewanka starting at 2 p.m. Wednesday. We just made it out of bed in time (oh, what fun to sleep in and not worry about it) to have dinner and get to the bus.

Are you getting tired of reading about "Our Trip"? Sure hope not because there will be at least one more installment so see you next week.

The Athenaeum Club met on Monday evening, August 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Holmes. Special guests at this, one of the most enjoyable as well as instructive evenings the club has experienced this year, were Mrs. Manilla Meldrum and Mrs. Ellen Winkler and Mary.

Mr. Holmes drolly reviewed for the members the history and the story of the opera "Carmen". He provocatively showed his listeners how one theme or motif is carried throughout the entire performance. At one point in his instruction the triteness of the English literal translation of the very beautiful Flower Song was demonstrated.

The group was then treated to the captivating rendition of the opera through the medium of records with Gladys Swarthout singing the part of Carmen.

At the conclusion of the musical evening Mrs. Holmes served a delicious lunch.

Mrs. Melvin King, on behalf of the members, moved a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Holmes.

The Alberta Assessment Commission, J. W. Forbes, chairman, A. Sutter and Mr. Miller sat in the Council Room of the Town Hall on Wednesday to review the assessment complaints of 14 ratepayers. Three of the appeals were granted, one by changing the classification and two by reduction in valuation. The decision on the three elevators was reserved. J. Harper Prowse, K.C., represented the Ratepayer, J. J. Sparling the Alta. Pacific, G. A. Williams the UGG and A. Cameron the Alta. Wheat Pool.

George Garner (Calgary Power) returned Thursday morning from a three week stay at Pincher Creek where he relieved Lloyd Christenson, district manager, who was on holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bowden of Salt Lake City are visiting here with the Paxman and Tolstrup families. Mrs. Bowden and Mrs. Chris Tolstrup are Douglas Paxman's sisters.

Mrs. Martha Woolley entertained Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Carl Jones of Provo, Utah. The evening was spent doing handwork and a tasty lunch was enjoyed.

LIONS

honor, by celebrating one of the forthcoming International Conventions in South America, thus allowing us to prove to you that the friendship of Lions is warm and sincere, and at the same time helping us to make a glorious reality of our object, "To create and foster a spirit of generous consideration among the peoples of the world."

I believe, Ladies and Gentlemen, that the greatest ambition a Lion can have is to come to the birthplace of Lionism, and at the same time have the unequalled privilege of shaking hands with that visionary, who, one glorious day in 1914 conceived the idea of uniting all men in a bond of disinterested service, and created this great institution of which we all have the honor of being members. As the authorized representative of the Andean Area, and in the name of its component countries, I take advantage of this unique opportunity where thousands of us are gathered in that spirit of high idealism which he created to render the fervent homage of gratitude, respect and admiration to the Founder of World Lionism, Melvin Jones.

And before I finish, Ladies and Gentlemen, I call upon Almighty God, I invoke Him with all the fervor of the great flame that Lionism ideals have lit in my soul, and I pray that He will bless the work of this Convention, that He will enlighten us, and give us strength, courage and serenity to face and solve the problems awaiting us; and that He will help us put into effect the great principle that we try to follow, that of bringing peace to men and nations, and greater happiness to humanity.

Last month Finland was the twenty-ninth country to join Lionism when the Helsinki Club was organized. When this Good Neighbor Policy has spread still further and the Lions Code carried into every corner we can solve our international affairs because we can understand each other.

A number of ladies met at the home of Mrs. Alice Court on Wednesday afternoon for a quilting bee.

Many Clubs in the British Isles have advised the Winnipeg Rotary Club of contributions made to the Fund.

Rotary Club of Grand Falls, N.B., collected and shipped a carload of potatoes.

Rotary Clubs of Douglas and Ramsey, Isle of Man, at the request of their Government sponsored a scheme to send blankets and rugs. For every $1 collected the Government Treasurer contributed $1 — or blanket for blanket, and a consignment of 1,100 blankets and rugs are now en route to Winnipeg.

A Word from Edison

In view of the late country-wide rail strike which has been in the limelight, perhaps a word from Edison might be apropos.

Back in 1920 Thomas A. Edison was persuaded to take a half a day off from his work to celebrate his seventy-third birthday. His associates gathered to hear these observations from him:

"I'm not against the eight hour day or any other thing that protects labor from exploitation at the hands of ruthless employers, but it makes me sad to see young Americans shackle their abilities by blindly conforming with rules which force the industrious man to keep in step with the shirker."

"I've always felt that one of the reasons for American progress in the past has been that every man had a chance to become whatever he wanted to be."

"It used to be fashionable to be ambitious."

"The employee planned to become an employer; the unskilled man sought to become skilled."

"A young man was not well thought of if he were not striving for a higher place in life."

"Today I am wondering what would have happened to me by now if 50 years ago some fluent talker had converted me to the theory of the eight-hour day and convinced me that it was unfair to my fellow workers to put forth my best efforts in my work.

"If my life had been made up of eight-hour days, I do not believe I would have accomplished very much."

"This country would not amount to as much as it does if the young men of 50 years ago had been afraid they might earn more than they were paid."

Fable for 'Fifty

Two fleas decided to marry and settle down. The ceremony performed, they selected a big, inactive dog, and took up their abode.

Life was sweet and rosy. Food, heat and shelter were provided from a central control source. Freedom from want and fear became a reality. With a housing unit in every wrinkle, the fleas had little to do other than eat, sleep and multiply.

The dog seldom scratched. He never plunged into streams, nor in any manner did he upset the tranquility of his "citizens". Selfish and material rights were subordinated to the comfort and welfare of the fleas, who enjoyed abundant sheltered life. They multiplied amazingly!

There came a time when the old dog grew weary and debilitated. Could be the fleas were too voracious in their appetites. Unable longer to support his hungry and non-productive citizenry, the old dog wandered into the wilderness and passed away.

Consternation—nay, panic—reigned amongst the fleas. They raced from tip of tail to cold shiny nose shouting, "The economic system has let us down!"

Many of the panic-stricken horde, disillusioned and without sustenance, and totally incapacitated to seek a new livelihood, died on the spot. Others, deeply embittered, trudged out to face a cold, unsympathetic world, dying as they tried to thumb a ride to the next dog.

With a reasonable amount of initiative, a will to do a fair day's work, a bit of discipline, plus self-reliance, the fleas would be living today. And so would the dog.

And so until next week this is your Rote Reporter who has decided it may be a blessing to be cheerfully ignorant.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Ira McBride and Mrs. Evelyn Fackrell were recent visitors in Ban.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. McDerm, Ladon and Deloy, accompanied by Mrs. M. E. Lund, recently returned from a two-week holiday that took them to Wenatchee and Seattle, Wash., Milner, Vancouver and Penticton, B.C. They called on Mrs. Higgins, a former resident of Raymond, now in Wenatchee, who sends her regards, and visited their daughter, Vera, in Vancouver. They called at the homes of several other former residents of Raymond but were disappointed by finding no one home.

While driving through Wenatchee and Seattle they were greatly impressed by the fine new homes and while in Seattle they had the thrill of seeing the ocean-going vessels moving about in the harbor. From Vancouver they enjoyed wonderful weather while on a boat tour of the Gulf Islands. In the fruit growing districts they were amazed at how the severe winter-kill had affected the orchards. While visiting Vera they attended the opera "Chu Chin Chow" at the Theatre Under the Stars.

On their return journey they visited Grand Coulee Dam and were greatly impressed by the magnitude of this project. They continued on home through Kalispel and the Logan Pass. They report a wonderful trip but say they were glad to get home.

The 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Innes had a narrow escape recently when he was struck by a loaded truck. The driver had slowed down to pass a group of children but young Jackie suddenly started across the road and was hit by the front bumper. He was thrown under the truck but the driver had stopped before the wheels hit the child. He was taken to Dr. Walker for treatment, which included several stitches in the back of his head, and then home.

An estimated $10,000 frost was reported at the Kirkcaldy Ranch. The wheat crop is a total loss but oats and other crops were damaged very little.

Trucks and vans are still coming in large numbers to carry away many tons of sugar from the Factory warehouse. One morning this week there were eight or ten trucks and transports waiting at the gate before the factory workers arrived.

The biggest load we have seen or heard about was on a Regina transport. He had 25 tons of the precious sweet stuff on and according to our rough figuring he was carrying a load that will retail at about $6,000. In any man's language that is a lot of sugar.
